

Produce Enterprise-Ready Forms with Adobe's Professional Form Design Tool

Unlocking the Secrets of

Adobe® LiveCycle® Designer 8

Connect your forms to Microsoft Access,
MySQL and Excel

Save, sign and submit
PDF forms from the free
Adobe Reader

Use JavaScript and FormCalc to make interactive forms

Set up paperless workflows inside and outside your organization

Learn when its best to create forms in LiveCycle Designer vs.
Adobe Acrobat 8 Pro

Create dynamic forms that automatically expand

Link legacy forms to XML schemas

And much more!

PDF Workflow Series By Carl Young

© 2006 Skeleton Key Books

Contents

Designer Overview

What is a Designer form?
*Acrobat PDF form or Designer
PDF form?*
Advantages of Designer PDF forms
Characteristics of dynamic forms
Form workflow examples

Converting legacy forms

Acrobat-created PDF forms
Word forms
InfoPath forms
Adobe LiveCycle Designer forms

Introducing the Designer interface

Set your preferences
Four hot spots in Designer—Design View, Hierarchy view, Library and Object inspector
Working with Design View and Master Pages
Formatting fields
Using the Library and creating custom XFO objects
Using the Object Inspector
Working with the Hierarchy Tab order

Subforms: the key to creating dynamic forms

Subform best practices
Nesting subforms
Positioned and flowed subforms
Dynamic tables
Overflow leaders and trailers

Inside Job: Using the XML Window

Overview
Formatting with XML
Linking fields to XML schemas and instances

Using JavaScript and FormCalc in Designer

Using the Script Editor
Introducing FormCalc
Designer JavaScript vs. Acrobat JavaScript Using Designer JavaScript

Creating Data Connections

Data binding
Use web services
Link to a Microsoft Access database via ODBC
SQL overview
Add and delete database records

Resources

Coming January 2007

www.pdfworkflows.com